

UCSC Policy on Continuous Assessment and PGVLE Access

(as per the decision taken at the 246th Academic Syndicate)

1. Continuous Assessment

Continuous assessment refers to the regular evaluation of a student's performance throughout a course. Therefore, the 246th Academic Syndicate has taken the following decision regarding continuous assignment requirements.

First Available Opportunity:

- You should complete all continuous assignments and sit for the final examination at the first available opportunity.
- Your final grade will be calculated according to the course's grading rubric (e.g., 30% from assignments + 70% from the exam).

Beyond the First Available Opportunity:

- If you have already completed or partially completed continuous assignments during the first available opportunity:
  - The continuous assignment marks will be carried forward.
  - The final grade will be decided by the Examination Board using the method most favorable to the student:
    - either 100% from the exam,
    - or a combination of previous continuous assignment marks and the new exam mark, based on the original rubric.
- If you have not completed any of the continuous assignments during the first available opportunity:
  - Your final grade will be based entirely on the exam (100%).
  - Therefore, you are not required to redo any continuous assignments.

2. PGVLE Access

To ensure that all students have access their course content throughout their maximum four year studentship, the following policy will be implemented.

- Each student will have access only to the PGVLE instance assigned to their batch.
- To ensure all students receive updated course materials, lecturers will upload the latest content to all relevant PGVLE instances.
